The Readiness of the Living or How Do I Cultivate My Spirit?

The article invites you to overcome the lower passions out of love for Life and to persevere in the good even when all seems lost.

Let me start with the fact that Light does not know darkness, darkness knows everything about Light! An innocent cannot imagine that someone would want to harm him, because innocence is not malicious, it cannot expect maliciousness, it is not prepared for it, and when it experiences it, it is always destructive for it.

A light being, when not deceived to the contrary, cannot do anything that would endanger him/her or another, because he is ruled by Love. Therefore, we humans are easy prey to the stealthy darkness, which knows about the Innocence of Light Beings and pressures it in every element of the control system.

Innocence makes us such an attractive energy snack!
There is no higher Power than Innocence, it makes us indestructible.

If you can look at your Life from a distance, as a third person, uninvolved in your story, you must admit that there was no other way by which you could grow into the spiritual sovereignty that separates the false and the true. Love is otherwise your nature, which, knowingly or unknowingly, you do not recognize as a Sovereign value worthy of your loyalty.

Don't you think this is the benevolent logic of Life, which, as absolutely Free cannot force you to Love, awakens you to it by experiencing firsthand the choice for non-love?

Ignorance is a trick that the darkness uses to manipulate you to their interests. However, Love does not allow itself to remain in ignorance indefinitely and sooner or later remembers its Victoriousness. It is better to realize firsthand the falsity of the choices I consent to, than to live in an illusion of goodness, remain spiritually immature and be a tool for darkness to destroy Life.

You see what immense Intelligence is behind the so-called 'the worst' that happens to you? Light did not create darkness, as some mistakenly think that everything comes from the Source, but with its energy, which darkness does not have, it maintains and increases it.

A photon of sunlight that has flown away from the Sun, as free it can temporarily create the illusion that it is not the Sun,
and from this illusion it causes evil.
But we cannot say that the Sun created a photon that thinks it is not the Sun.

Therefore, do not throw sand in God's eyes and rather realize how you got caught in the deception of helplessness? If you've ever wanted to achieve something that goes against the established practice, such as a lady in her 70s who no longer wanted to pay the mandatory RTV subscription. Because of the stupidity of the program, as she says, she thought it was too much to have to pay for it... you would find out that no one can do anything in this social order.

Of course, she is Alive and can do anything, so she sent RTV a request to unsubscribe from the subscription, to which she received a cold response that if she has a TV set, she has to pay. Of course, the lovely lady, to whom things are clear, did not let herself be fooled and persisted, went from the general director of RTV to the prime minister, and everywhere she got the answer that they have nothing to do with the fact that this is the way it is and they do not decide on it.

After months of such correspondence, someone from RTV came to her home and tweaked something in her TV receiver so that now she can't watch programs that she can't watch anyway. She has had the TV set for a long time, but she uses it to play selected cartoons for her grandchildren, or to watch some old movies herself when the actors still had 'the juice'.

After 3 years, the cast at TV company has changed and the lady receives the fee again. She repeated the exercise with the new boss, who replied that the law had changed, that now she could watch TV on her phone and computer and other objects. The lady, now almost 80 years old, has never held a smartphone in her hand, she only has an old mobile with buttons, taped over so that it doesn't fall apart.

In the last letter, which was apparently effective, she emphasized that they can not charge for the possession of the object, only for their service through this object, which she does not use. She won because the lady resolutely and politely insisted and did not go below the belt in any movement and used the tricks of lower consciousness to achieve what she wanted.

This is a study case of a systemic battle that you must have experienced before, the question is, did you win.
But you will win if, in every detail, you turn to the high behavioral qualities of Organic Life, which feel, love and give freedom.

The structure of this system is deliberately tailored so that there is no one you can turn to, so you would give up and lose everything before you achieve freedom... energy, will, interest, often health, and Life. Have you ever wondered what would happen if people managed to unite on at least one thing, e.g. in paying TV subscriptions because we don't like the program? They would be forced to raise the quality of the content, or better yet, there would be no television at all, because it is an invention of the dark mind that cuts you off from the high vibration of real Life.

If your eyes were looking straight into Life, you could render live scenes all by yourself. Anyone who wants to can find quite a few people who have publicly revealed higher abilities, which until now were secretly used only by secret agencies.

Man, you are the ultimate organic technology unmatched in mechanical substitutes, precisely because of pouring energy into making inanimate things you are croaked in your strength like a snail into a house.
But they're still in you, you just have to turn within and shower them with the Light of attention.

The lady knew what kind of person she was dealing with and was prepared for his indifference and surrender to personal interests. While he wasn't ready for her. A person ruled by indifference and self-interest stands alone, a person ruled by honesty and love has Life on his/her side.

The person at RTV could theoretically choose to serve and graciously approve the fair and healthy request of the lady, but in actual behavior this usually backfires, because people do not love, but rather stand in a daze in fear for themselves. The lady correctly assessed the character of the man, expected opposition and reluctance to release her from the monetary tether, but she also knew who she had on her side if she insisted on high vibrational behavior. With Life as an Ally on her side, she is not only guaranteed victory, she also does not lose Peace and with it Health, because she trusts in the correctness of the unfolding of events at every step.

This is how darkness skillfully and unerringly catches you in its nets, even with healthy heart initiatives, because resistance on the other side easily throws you out of Peace. If so, you didn't really have Peace because you didn't consciously cultivate it. It is necessary to build peace within yourself with seriousness and regularity, otherwise, you will fail at the first test of facing the restlessness of other people.

Do you find certain things unforgivable? That your anger and resentment are justified? Probably true, but judging the actions of others costs you Life because Life is complete in itself. You leave the judgment to the Supreme Judge, and you take the first step into the sovereignty of the loving and begin to mind exclusively your business.

Now is the time to recognize your own spiritual inflexibility as the root cause of the situation you find yourself in, and that ignorance does not save. Listen to the sincerity that kindly, without judgments and reproaches, reveals your contribution to whatever bad happens to you.

This is an insight that breaks the loop of irresponsibility! Hallelujah! This is the birth of the Humility of Life, without which you have no solution. When you mature into self-responsibility, you regain the Power that you took by not taking responsibility. Now you are free! Now you have a choice!

People are right here now, in realization, that we must transform ourselves into more Life harmonious beings.
The transformation is intimate, personal, and specific to each individual,
there is no one who can do it for you.
Don't be afraid to put aside a false consolation
on the shoulders of people who don't have Peace yet, just boldly lean on the Peace within,
in It you will be truly Comforted and Healed.

As long as you lean on someone outside of yourself, you are wasting precious time and energy, so you can not cultivate the spirit, be energetically revitalized, become independent in discernment and to mature into the providence of Life. You will enter the world like a seal in a game with a shark: 'Oh, what beautiful teeth you have, would you like to play with me, let's play 'catch me'?', until, after being chewed many times, you become numb and realize that this is not a game for him.

By then it's too late to fall back on the Readinnes of Living and not even start playing with it. Despite the tormentedness and precisely because of it, wisdom is now closer to you than ever and you can turn right from this position as well. The old program appealed to you 'tooth for a tooth', since Jesus, this law of vengeance no longer applies, although until now it has steadily crept into the place of your first choices.

Therefore, the unconscious reaction to the bad you received was to resort to hitting back, taking justice into your own hands, ten years of courts, and thus multiplying the one negative charge, that did not even come from you, to infinity. It drinks your blood for years and years, often to death, not because of the attacker's actions, but because of your vibration of restlessness, which sounds similar to the attacker's. Both are in the head, where all the lower passions come from, so you dance together.

You could avoid getting involved in the attacker's lowland.
You could cultivate the spirit, rest within yourself, didn't get caught in the game of low consciousness, and stay High.
In turmoil, you have no choice, you react from the program.

Only in Peace you have a choice.

If you had only remained a naive seal, ended up between the teeth of a shark, and dragged yourself into solitude and silence with the natural tendency of a wounded animal to soothe your wounds, then your school of awakening would be fruitful. In solitude, even your soul begins to see the scent of nature, even from the silence, a new strength is born, the clarity of the inner silence.

In it, you would understand the flawlessness of the events that brought you here. In every detail, in every event, in every pain, and in every grudge that you have experienced, you would recognize the perfect blueprint of Life to bring you the clarity of Peace.

Now you have outgrown naivety and entered the realm of wise, you have left the arrogance of the mind and entered the humility of the Living. Now you distinguish a friendly fish from a bloodthirsty shark, the intrinsic from the alien! This is the sovereignty of Life-lovers. Only the benevolent Intelligence of Life could pull you, by allowing you pain, from the abyss of non-distinction you never knew you were in.

How do you know that everything happened as it should and for your good? You still Live!!! It could bite you in half and you'd lose your chance to cultivate the spirit and survive the sharks. Who is the shark? Man sold to flesh, money, and power.

In silence, you are guided by higher knowledge. How do you recognize it? It can't advise you anything destructive... not for you, not for anyone else. It isn't ignorant, so it cannot give you advice that would rob you of Light. It encourages you to reconcile, understand, self-responsibility, and trust in Life, so that you recognize it in everything that happens to you without your intervention... remember: Our Father, Your will be done. Now you know that you needed bad experiences to break down in vanity, by which you literally begged for a blow of sobriety. Now you can be truly grateful for this and the people who were instrumental in your revival.

In the inner silence, something great happens, because of disappointment and losses,
you divorced from low deeds of others,
which could not happen if you were still vibrating
in the lowlands of fear and violence.
Your fall is a sign that your vibration is rising in cuts you off from others who haven't stepped on the path of introspection.
This is the beginning of your awakening among spiritually sensitive Beauties in your entry in Life.

Now you can easily outgrow everything lower, without bad will, criticism, or self-pity. In Peace, you will be born anew according to your will and for the first time, you will see the Beauty of Life, especially in the bad that you experienced it. You yourself agreed to the shark game, don't forget that. No one is to blame if, even with that naivety, you created negative consequences that cannot be realized otherwise than by people who do not want to love. Forgive yourself and you will heal!

How to cultivate the spirit

To conclude, let's look at what it means to cultivate the spirit. Do you start to understand what it means to be liberated, just by understanding the energy dynamics of life? According to Fran to cultivate means to change useless land, e.g. marshes, swamps deserts..., in arable land and preparation for agricultural treatment by regulating water, soil moisture, removal of peat, physical and chemical (letter not anymore) soil improvement, especially by shaking stones, lime, fertilization, etc.

If you transfer this to internal land, which, if we worked out of the understanding of natural law, should remain intact with a foreign hand and supported into the growth of self-grown 'plants'. Thus, we come from the position of viciousness with invasive non-authentic weeds, which, without cultivation, now somewhere until the fifth, or sixth year of age, outgrown the natural qualities of organic life. Due to the prolonged suffocation of the spirit, we no longer distinguish our own from a foreign, living from the dead. Learning to listen to a foreign thought, but we no longer understand the primal language of the body, which warns us of everything that harms us.

Therefore, in order to get to the fertile soil, where we now cultivate non-authentic weeds, we must carefully clean up. We are really suffocated, but there is no greater weight than that you carry now, as confused, heavy, addicted, unsatisfied and sick. If you pull out from your spirit only one weed, e.g. the one I emphasize most in this article is a misunderstanding of the dynamics of life, if you were to pull out only a rebellion against what is happening to you, you have removed the main toxicity that takes away from you all the energy.

If you get rid of this weed, you will now recognize the unmistakable energy law in everything, which charges and returns only charges you are sending out, so you can no longer lose power where there is no cause of what is happening to you. The saved energy gives you clarification, you cannot achieve any other way than by freeing energy from wasteful trappings in areas where you are not allowed by law of freedom and where you have no influence.

The saved energy will clarify the great value of the slowdown that you could not see as restless... as if you were moving to 'Slow Motion'. Relaxed in physical movement, breathing, and eye movement, you recognize the elements of your behavior to the slightest detail, you begin to see yourself, recognize the inclinations of your actions, your thoughts, moods, fears..., slowing down the creative gives power back into your hands.

You are now ready for all sharks that cannot make you do anything non-loving, let alone 'play' with them.
Now you know who you are and your victory is without a fight.
You just don't play this 'game' anymore.
The more Peace you have,
the more unattainable you are to them.

You have reached mastery of yourself, and now restlessness, ignorance, fear, laziness, negligence, anger, threat, etc. are smoothly put in the last place of the priority, where they never come to be. You can't get rid of them, you just do not devote any of your attention and slowly starve them, so they have no power over you. Now you only revitalize the selected quality of organic Life that has always been in you. The manifestation of your new, elevated reality will be ensured by the energy dynamics of Life, you do not have to move your fingers about it. Self-efforts are only necessary for the goals of low vibrations that Life cannot support.

Shine and stay brilliant, M.Š.
