

The Law of Life 1 - Intro

We have always been and all has been vibration, and energetic reality is the only reality that exists. My energetic image is who I really am, my true face, not the body I see in the mirror, not earthly acquisitions. The transformation we are going through is not that the laws of Life are changing, but that our attention is freed from trapped thoughts and begins to experience energy directly. We are beginning to see things as they are, not as we were taught to see them, or as we thought they were.

This is the age of spiritualization or more precisely...the transillumination of bodies, this is the time of raising consciousness to a brighter level, in which we hand over decision-making to the irrefutable commands of the heart, inspired by the ruling energy of the universe - Love.

There is no right and wrong in the world of energy, only actions and consequences. Energy laws override any judgment. It is only a path of maturing towards ever-increasing brightness. The trust I build in the path of natural process, in the immutable laws of energy, imbues me with an unquenchable inspiration to serve Life, because I understand my inseparability from It.

The love that is born from this fusion is the guardian of my naturalness and protects it from a foreign hand as an inviolable sanctuary in which the Perfection of Life matures. Naturalness is life's inviolability, in which I must not interfere sleeping and unloving. I must allow the awakened love to transform me into its own likeness, which is only allowed to carefully and considerately touch Life with the intention of beautifying the natural gifts and serving other people and living beings with them.

I see the universe as a constant movement of limitless pure consciousness, in which my greater or lesser brightness determines the breadth, beauty and utility of my creations. I see the universe as a confluence of infinite energy threads, from where materiality, time and individuality rise, which are the means of my creativity, and not the true reality, which I recognize only in the purity of the spiritual realms.

Quantum science tells me what I know without studying and looking under a microscope, or I knew before I was trapped in the world of low consciousness, from which I am now, even with the help of quantum thought, only to be able to perceive energy directly again with my own light body, that surpasses any device in sensitivity and accuracy of detection. Thus, I revive my inner self-awareness and remember that Life is a choice of infinite possibilities, in which abundance, love and light are limitless creative elements.

My work is to align personal energy with the Laws of Nature, redistribute it to take ownership of the light body back into my own hands, and give everything I need to survive in a higher vibrational environment, where there is no self-deception and no lies.

Life rewards energy-based intentions; energetic opportunism or enlightened self-interest. The shift in perception has already begun, the impact it has on us is incomparable to the industrial and information revolution and will permanently shift the focal point of our perception of ourselves.

We are called to carefully shape our thoughts and emotions, to create prudent energy charges through high-sounding intentions and to multiply the Love that will reawaken us into energetically sensitive beings.
