

Law of Life 4 - Seven Light Densities 4-7

The fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh levels of light density

During the learning of the Law of One according to Ra, especially after I got used to its highly spiritual terminology, it was as if with a brush it drew for me the image, meaning and instructions of Life, which I was missing in the general offer of knowledge. I spent countless evenings in the clearing at the edge of the forest, looking at these beautiful stars. Questions simmered silently inside me, not knowing at the time that they would one day return with answers. It's not that this reading only clarified the concepts for me, it message only tangibly unfolded what I knew without naming. I didn't even have a coherent structure of knowledge that wraps everything up and connects with each other.

I've been maturing with the Law of One for quite some time, which is why I've had a break of several months since my last post on the subject of the Law of Life. Anyone who researched it would realize that there is so little and so superficial knowledge about it that I was forced to turn completely within in order to bring forth the naive inspiration with which I embarked on the venture. I intended to delve into the simple energy dynamics of Life with the 12 Laws, from the Law of One, Vibrational, Correspondence, Relative, Cause and Effect, Polarity, Gender, Timing, etc., but as I worked I found that it lacked context.

It is not enough to vividly imagine money showering on you and be grateful for it, as if you already have it and will receive it if money is what you want. This kind of manipulation of the Law of Life is extremely harmful and creates negative consequences due to a simple misunderstanding of the dynamics of the Light that writes the Law of Life.

Whenever you want something, no matter what, you come from an energetic fact, whose light only understands that you don't have it, and on top of that, you're being hypocritical because you can't be thankful for something you don't have. So what you are creating is lack and insincerity.

Therefore, I propose that we approach the knowledge of the law from afar and begin to learn about the dynamics of Light in its broadest aspect, so that we can place ourselves in Wholeness and once again establish ourselves in your highest and only mission, which we humans are beginning to know and realize as a collective. Not everyone will recognize it, but we all have an equal opportunity to choose the Light now that we have entered an octave higher vibrational environment.

The fourth level of light density... gives rise to love and understanding. It is associated with the heart vortex, the green ray and the transformation of the chemical body into the light body with a frequency of 639 Hz. This is the healing frequency. Due to the planetary transition to a higher vibrational level 11 years ago, the Earth became hospitable to light bodies. What a beauty! Although we are at the beginning of the fourth level, which is not yet manifested outwardly, the awakening consciousness among people is evident.

You can tell the transition from the dramatic upheavals that have saturated human society since the 60s and are works of awakening love; from the sexual renaissance, the liberation from the oppression of women, minorities and races, to the awareness of global corruption and the shadow side of our society, which in 2012 broke all inhibitions and irresistibly set humanity on the path of self-rule by the Loving. But the last three Corona years have brought people together more than anything else in known human history and literally opened the sky above us so that for the first time after thousands of years of ignorance and darkness we see the Light again.

At the fourth level, the informational quarantine of not-knowing and forgetting that we have been stuck in since the last fall, is disintegrating and will disappear completely, opening up cross-communication between densities. We are entering an era of communion with all forms of organic Life that transcends verbalization and speech, with the expressive and feeling language of awakened consciousness. Because of this, information of a higher light density penetrates into the third level and allows us to 'catch' it.

As you progress through the fourth level, the consciousness of love and understanding between individual souls becomes more and more united and becomes a coherent unity called the 'complex of social memory'. One soul's experience merges with souls oscillating at the same frequency, allowing them to access the experiences, knowledge, and memory of all souls involved. This fusion continues on the fifth and sixth levels, becoming stronger and brighter. Ra is the social memory complex of the sixth level of light density.

The choice for the negative pole continues after the third level into the fourth negative level as intense self-love, self-obsession and hatred of others. Souls of the fourth negative level do not activate the green ray of love because they do not see the benefit of self-service in love and understanding. Souls of negative paths shut off the heart vortex entirely, thus severing the informational thread with Life and creating a long and arduous life experience far worse than the third level.

Due to the formation of a social memory, complex the boundaries of individuality are blurred, and communication becomes warlike, telepathic, hypoperceptive, which causes the complete disappearance of lies and insincerity. Concerns that the works of the higher beings of light are misleading stem from the experience of the third level and a misunderstanding of the dynamics of Light.

Energy bodies

Each level manifests a corresponding energy body. The red ray is a pure atomic body, such as stone, water and metal have. The atomic body has very little maneuver to express the light of consciousness. When you dream, you experience the dream with the light body of the sixth indigo vortex while your yellow chemical body sleeps. The light indigo body can walk on water, through walls and do whatever it wants and is a natural sixth level soul body.

Every substance is an electro-magnetic light wave, which changes its structure from carbonaceous to crystalline and ethereal as the light content increases, so as the light density progresses, the possibility of expressing consciousness increases. We can see that there is a qualitative difference between the individual levels of light density, due to the sliding scale of electro-magnetic waves.

This does not mean that healing, telepathic communication, increased psychic powers, astral travel, etc. impossible on the third level, because from observing the creatures of the second level we see that there are no diseases among the wild plants and animals, and that these creatures communicate with each other flawlessly without the use of words. For people of the third level, the natural conditions of higher light density are only more difficult to realize due to forgetting that we are actually a light phenomenon.

When a being of higher brightness enters the third level, he can, because of his ability to control the elements of nature, act as an unattainable deity, although he is a man like us in the higher stages of his progression towards the Light. Equally distinct is the difference between the fourth and fifth levels.

The fifth level of light density... engenders light and wisdom. It is associated with the throat vortex, the blue ray and the complete light body. It sounds at 741 Hz; it awakens self-assurance in communicating the inspirations of the heart. At this level, small inconsistencies with the Law of Life, which arise due to too much zeal in serving the Whole, awakened at the previous level, are purified. At this level, the soul matures to serve the Whole without self-sacrifice, renunciation and martyrdom, which, due to self-denial, it experienced on the fourth level.

Souls of higher brightness often choose to enter the lower levels to serve as beacons to young souls at a high frequency. These are the so-called old souls, who are found at this level at all times, and there are especially many of them living today. Since the Earth's entry into the fourth level, however, children are increasingly being born with complete recollection of themselves and their decision to serve.

A soul of fifth light density who has incarnated at this level spends most of its time in introspection, withdrawal and solitude to awaken the wisdom it has forgotten through the process of incarnating into the chemical body.

Cultivating purity of mind harmonizes the complete absence of self-concern, characteristic of the soul of the fourth level, with the complete self-sufficiency of the fifth.

The soul of the fifth level is in the pure awareness that everything that unfolds and happens is in accordance with the Law of Life, and that the only action that feels right and respects the free will of another is consistent. The soul of the fifth level is completely freed from time and space, and with the speed of thought, with a light indigo body, it can go where it wants, but it can also use a chemical body and take with it a bladder of breathing atmosphere if it enters areas unsuitable for this body, he can create matter from light, heal hypoma, manipulate the elements of nature, create living images as projected holograms, and much more. Even today, we have examples of people who have revealed themselves to the collective consciousness and show us who we are and where our next step is going. Whatever you are capable of in lucid dreaming, a soul of the fifth level of brightness can do live on that level.

At the fifth level, the social memory complex is very powerful and includes the knowledge, experience and memories of the planetary and galactic consciousness. Each soul either tends to ever higher light density, or is drawn into service in lower levels.

The soul of the third level is drawn to the higher level by the force of gravity of love and understanding, and the soul of the fourth level with the power of longing after being fully aligned with love and wisdom.

The sixth level of light density... brings unity and balance. It is connected to the center of the third eye, the color indigo, and also to the body of light. It sounds at 852 Hz. This frequency shatters illusions, increases mental acuity and promotes astral projection.

The sixth level is the finely calibrated energy of Love and Wisdom. This is the level that souls who have chosen the negative pole cannot enter because the choice to serve themselves has entroped their light body. The soul of the negative pole has by now accumulated enough wisdom of suffering to see the fruitlessness of this choice. and that advancement is not possible through this path. After long internal battles, he matures to acquiesce in Love and Wisdom and reverses the polarity.

The soul of positive choice at the sixth level balances all the contradictions it has experienced in service to the Whole and turns in service as the 'higher self' to its previous stages of progression to merge with all bodies into the Wholeness necessary to enter seventh density.

The Law of One really hits the nail on the head at this point, where everyone is absolutely with themselves, but the behavior of the higher self is equivalent to the omniscient Source at the sixth level, and you cannot find a better guide than your inner behavior.

You are always connected to Source and separation does not exist, you can only live in the belief that you are not connected and make decisions inconsistent with your higher self. Service to the Whole and service to the Self are identified at this point, or as the Toltecs would say, 'when one annihilates himself in the service of the Whole, he becomes One with Her and gains all Hers'.

The seventh level of light density... is the transition. It is associated with the crown vortex, the violet ray and also with the light body. It sounds at 963 Hz; it connects to the universal behavior or mind of Source, higher densities and other universes. It is the last density level of this octave, or the universe. Here, the accumulation of personal experiences and individuality dissolve in fusion with the Source. Fusion is not so much a loss of self as a gain of the All. This source could not tell us more about this level because Ra is a social memory complex of the sixth level and knows only as much about the next level as the souls of higher brightness who stand with one foot in unmanifest eternity, have revealed to them.

Every level of density, from the world of stones onward, is drawn to remerge with the Whole with an indelible longing. After completing the seventh level of density, the soul enters the eighth, which is the first level of a new octave, a new universe with new experiences that we cannot imagine.

Let me conclude by emphasizing that Ra does not use words to communicate, and that we do not understand anything other than words, so the given presentation of light densities is the way a high light being presented it to us for understanding.

Advancing the path of Light is a bit like belt colors in martial arts. When a student matures for a certain belt color, he develops a growing desire to continue, because by acquiring a greater breadth of knowledge, he increasingly understands and controls his mind-body-spirit complex, as Ra calls a man. A martial art should never enter the competitive arena, nor should it be called a martial art. The beginning of each, let's call it 'light skill', is in this same longing for fusion with Oneness, which can only be achieved through self-knowledge. Thus, as one progresses towards the higher bands, the 'light skill' becomes more and more an internal energy realignment and less and less a skill of the physical body.

Now you have a broader view of the situation you are in and realize that you have only just stepped on the path of enlightenment. Some of you may already be emerging from the kindergarten of consciousness, in which you become aware of polarity and decide on one of the two options. With this choice, you determine the circumstances of further promotion. This is the separation, this is the much talked about reaper that will sort out souls to continue down a positive or negative path according to your choice and frequency.

I hope you find this as inspiring as it has for me and and empowering, so you are ready to continue your education for ever greater alignment with the Law of Life.
